

a: View of the northern hills of Deir el-Bahari (from Asasif) and row of tombs in the early-mid Middle Kingdom cemetery

b: View of the three tombs of the 2015 concession for the Middle Kingdom Theban Project at Deir el-Bahari northern hills

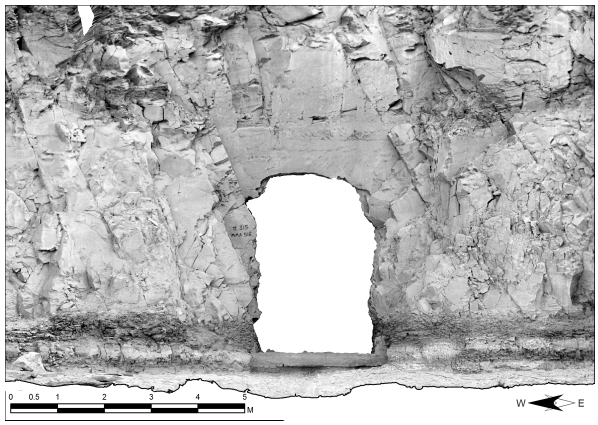

c: Close up of the texts on the E side and bottom of Ipi's sarcophagus; text in cursive hieroglyphs with some hieratic component a: a. Relief fragment from Henenu's tomb (no. 10); b. Coffin fragment in Harhotep's tomb (no. 12); c. Offering table at the entrance of Ipi's tomb (no. 18)

b: View of scattered wrappings, natron bags, and jar-stoppers (TT315, remains from Winlock's excavations at court façade entrance, central sector, context [1008])

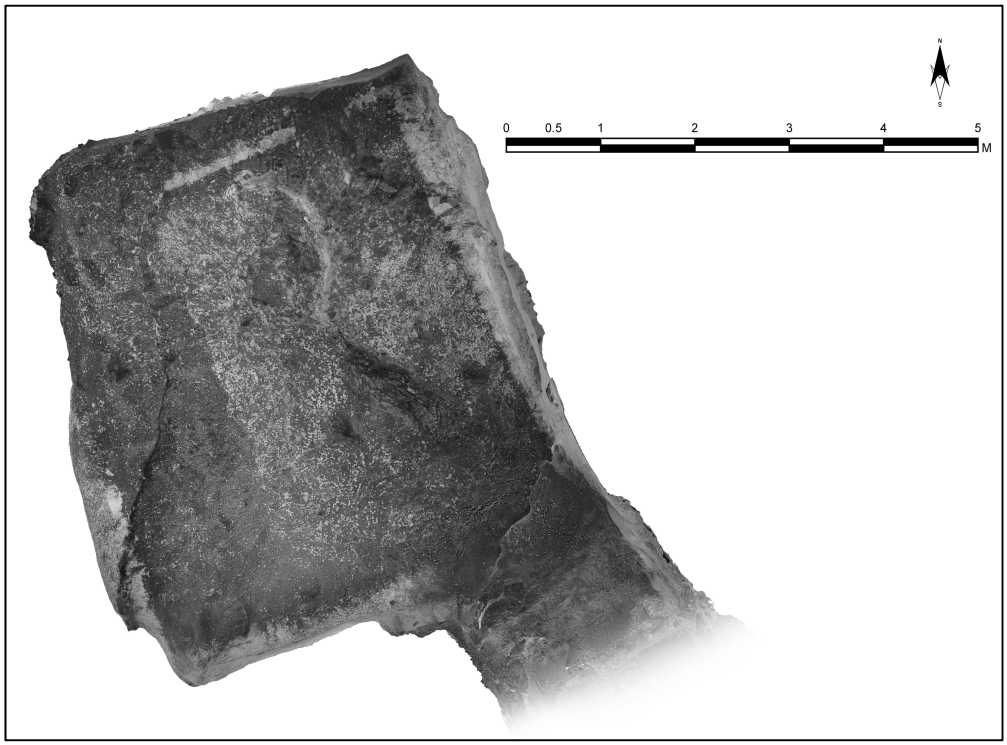

c: View of the eastern, central, and western sections of the façade (TT315)

d: Close up of the façade lintel over the entrance with cracks, breaks, and discoloration bands (TT315) a: NE view of the upper courtyard, façade, and the E wall of the mortuary complex (TT315)

b: Orthophoto of the ceiling in the sarcophagus chamber (TT315)

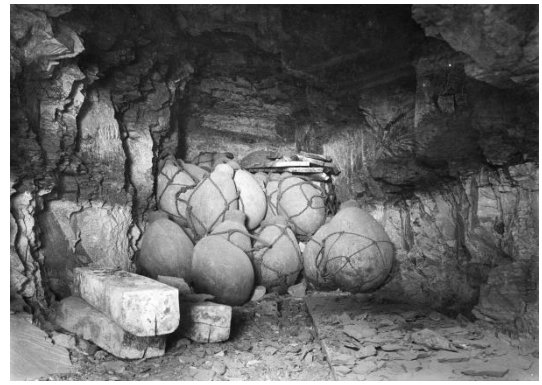

a: View of Ipi's sarcophagus chamber in 1922 (The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Department of Egyptian Art Archives, MMA Theban Expedition photo M3C 267)

b: View of Ipi's sarcophagus chamber in 2016 (Middle Kingdom Theban Project, Freie Universität Berlin Mission, Second Season photo)

c: View of the shaft leading to the embalming cachette (The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Department of Egyptian Art Archives, MMA Theban Expedition photo M3C 196)

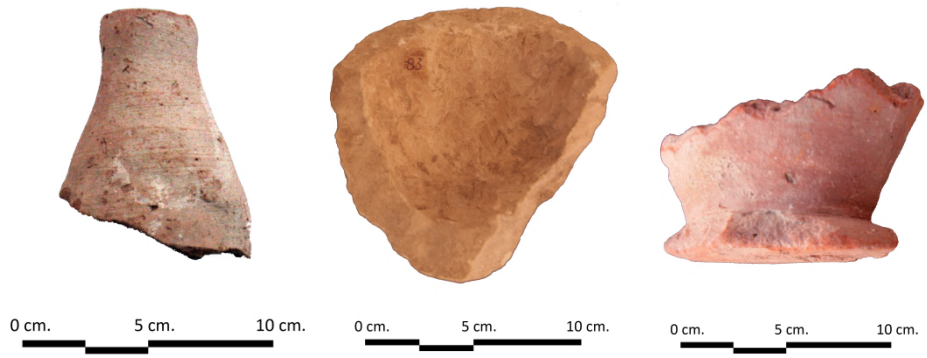

d: View of the chamber with the embalming materials (The Metropolitan Museum of Art, Department of Egyptian Art Archives, MMA Theban Expedition photo M3C 202)

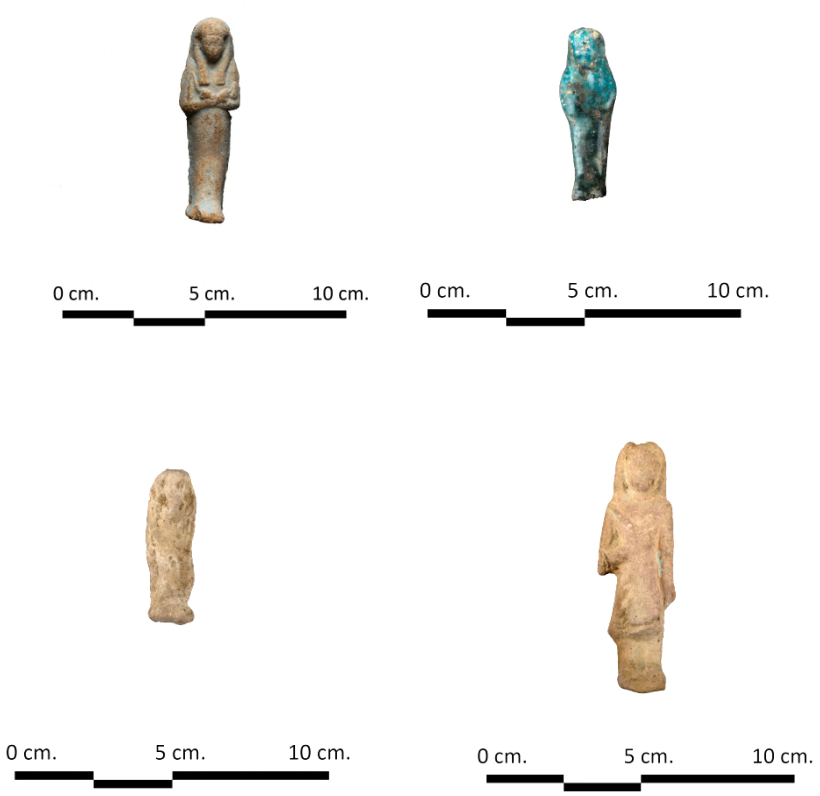

e: Various findings related to the embalming cachette of Ipi (TT315)

f: Shroud of Ipi with stains of blood, unguents, and perfumes (TT315)

a: Three diagnostic sherds of pottery and stone vessels (fragment a. no. 1 [999]; b. 83 [1000]; c. 104 [1012] respectively)

b: Four distinctive shabti figurines (a. left above: type 1: no. 1518; b. right above: type 2: no. 1824; left below: c. type 3: no. 1572; right below: d. type 4: no. 262) a–d: Examples of cartonnage fragments from Ipi's complex (left above: a. no. 650; right above: b. no. 1317; left below: c. no. 1722; right above: d. no. 1834)